Beverly Hills Establishes a Charitable Foundation for Philanthropic Opportunities

The City of Beverly Hills established a non-profit 501(c)3 organization called The City of Beverly Hills Community Charitable Foundation (CBHCCF) in order to expand philanthropic opportunities to the community. The CBHCCF Board of Directors includes Vice Mayor Lili Bosse, who chairs the CBHCCF, Councilmember Nancy Krasne, City Treasurer Eliot Finkel and Resident Board Members Kathi Rothner and Ronit Stone. The CBHCCF Officers include Chief Financial Officer Don Rhoads, Chief Executive Officer/City Manager Jeff Kolin and City Clerk Byron Pope.

“Beverly Hills is full of good people who want to give back.” says Vice Mayor Bosse. “The Foundation is working to make it as easy as possible for residents and the community to understand the City’s needs and simplify their own estate and financial planning.”

Although all donations to the City are tax deductible, certain patrons and companies require donations to be given to a 501(c)3 and the CBHCCF is pleased to provide that opportunity. The CBHCCF is accepting donations including to the following programs and projects:

- The Beverly Gardens Park Historical Renovation Project
- City of Beverly Hills Centennial Programs and Events
- Greystone Mansion and Park Restoration Efforts

Please contact the Community Services Department at 310.285.2537 to make a gift to CBHCCF at any time or for more information. You can see a greater list of philanthropic opportunities for the City of Beverly Hills at www.beverlyhills.org/giving.
