Residents Urged to Review Emergency Preparedness Plans Local Fires No Immediate Threat, But City of Beverly Hills on Alert

Beverly Hills, Calif. – Fires burning in numerous locations in Southern California, including the Skirball Fire in nearby Bel-Air, pose no immediate threat to Beverly Hills. However, the Beverly Hills Fire Department is on alert with extra precautions in effect to both prevent and respond to fires, particularly in the hillside areas.

According to the Beverly Hills Fire Department, the Santa Ana winds are coming out of the northeast, which should push the Bel-Air fire away from the City. However, the Beverly Hills Fire Department has posted additional staff and equipment at the Coldwater Canyon Fire Station and is in communication with the Los Angeles City and Los Angeles County Fire Departments. Currently no parking is allowed on Calle Vista Dive, Schuyler Road, La Altura Road, El Retiro Way, Miradero Road and Doheny Road between Foothill and Loma Vista. In addition, the City of Beverly Hills is reviewing plans for a possible disaster response involving all departments.

Residents are urged to review their emergency preparedness plans with family members and should be ready to evacuate if a fire threatens the City. Precautions include filling vehicle tanks with fuel, parking cars facing out of the driveway, and replenishing emergency supply kits for all family members, including pets. For information on how to prepare for an emergency, go to <http://www.beverlyhills.org/emergencypreparedness>.
