

Demonstrating Artists at the May 2019 artSHOW

Lisa Baldwin paints from life whenever possible, leaving in only what's vital, creating "visual haikus".
Space 415

Guy Kinnear shows the public how to use raw, natural materials to make paint. He is an enthusiastic teacher as well as an accomplished painter. The artist says he "crafts... miracles of artifice... Synthetic creatures trying clumsily to reconnect to Heaven and Earth..." Space 351

Carol Steinberg, a California artist, displays an intense, personal form of Impressionism in her plein air paintings.
Space 123

Deidre Greene, jeweler and small-scale sculptor, shows visitors how to make garden ornaments with copper sheets which she calls "copper jewelry for your garden". Space 361

Seda Saar speaks about her use of geometry and architecture in 2- and 3- dimensional art to art show patrons.
Space 200