DESCRIPTION:

168 Beverly

This two story brick commercial building in the American Colonial Revival style acknowledges the corner with an angled bay surmounted by a cupola. Pipe columns support the overhang of the hipped roof above the slightly concave bay. A glazed storefront is recessed on the first floor and a bank of windows spans the second floor of the bay. To either side, the Beverly and Charleville elevations are similarly treated, with storefronts and display windows on the first floor and a continuous band of windows on the second story.
