DESCRIPTION:

This two story residence is an example of the Norman Revival style. It has a U-shaped facade with front gable wings projecting towards the street. Stucco-sided with half-timbering on the second story, the house is fenestrated with small-paned casement windows. Both dormers with hipped hoods and with gables break through the eaves. The second story overhangs the first, accented by wood corbels and beams. The entry is shaded by the deeper overhang which appears on the rear wing. A brick chimney terminates the house on the south.
