Ed Lin, a native New Yorker of Taiwanese and Chinese descent, is the first author to win three Asian American Literary Awards. His YA-debut David Tung Can’t Have a Girlfriend Until He Gets Into an Ivy League College explores coming-of-age in the Asian diaspora while navigating relationships through race, class, and young love. Other books by Lin include a mystery series set in Taipei, of which the latest is 99 Ways to Die, published by Soho Crime. He lives in Brooklyn with his wife, actress Cindy Cheung, and son.

“A beautifully observed, hilariously truthful, uplifting coming-of-age story that captures the heart and humanity of a Chinese American male teenager. I am impressed and inspired by Ed Lin’s achievement and wish I could’ve read this book when I was in high school.” –David Henry Hwang
